Excerpt: . . . burn go runnin through the heat Past Corrymeela wi the blue sky over it. The people thats in England is richer nor the Jews, Theres not the smallest young gossoon but thravels in his shoes! Id give the pipe between me teeth to see a barefut child, Och! Corrymeela an the low south wind. Heres hands so full o money an hearts so full o care, By the luck o love! Id still go light for all I did go bare. God save ye, colleen dhas, I said: the girls he thought me wild! For Corrymeela, an the low south wind. Dye mind me now, the song at night is mortal hard to raise, The girls are heavy goin here, the boys are ill to plase; When onest Im out this workin hive, tis Ill be back again--Ay, Corrymeela, in the same soft rain. The puff o smoke from one ould roof before an English Town! For a shaugh wid Andy Feelan here Id give a silver crown, For a curl o hair like Mollies yell ask the like in vain--Sweet Corrymeela, an the same soft rain. JOHNEEN SURE, hes five months, an hes two foot long, Baby Johneen; Watch yerself now, for hes terrible sthrong, Baby Johneen. An his fists ill he up if ye make any slips, He has finger ends like the daisy-tips, But hell have ye attend to the words of his lips, Will Johneen. Theres nobody can rightly tell the...
