Excerpt: . . . 11 ensuring that we use sound science, that our actions are transparent, that we extensively consult with the public and other federal agencies, particularly with the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), and that our decisions allow a reasonable transition for agriculture and for the important public health uses of pesticides, to adopt new pest management tools and techniques. KEY FQPA ACCOMPLISHMENTS EPA has had many successes in implementing FQPA. We have met deadlines established for the reassessment of pesticide tolerances (legal residue limits), taken significant actions to reduce pesticide risks in a reasoned and responsible manner, established greater communication with groups impacted by our decisions, and improved our coordination with the USDA on pesticide issues. To that end, EPA and USDA have established the Committee to Advise on Reassessment and Transition (CARAT) to strengthen the interaction with all our stakeholders. CARAT helps to ensure that our decisions are open, well understood, and take into consideration the input from all interested parties. In addition, EPA...
